

Bible Study - Childrens Bible Study: Short Bible Stories

A bible study is important for all ages. Choosing bible studies that help children follow along with a bible story from beginning to end helps them grasp the story as God intended instead of just bits and pieces. About this Bible Study The Childrens Bible Study series was designed for kids to learn bible stories using a verse-by-verse method. Each book in the series breaks the bible story down into short daily lessons that the kids can understand, then points them to the verses in the bible for them to read for themselves. By reading the bible lesson first, kids will be able to grasp a better meaning of the verses in the bible. In this book, you'll find the bible stories of: Enoch Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand Naaman After each lesson, kids can answer questions about the bible story along with finding interesting or fun facts about bible times. In some lessons, a bold word may appear. These bold words are words that children may not be acquainted with yet and can find their meaning at the end of the lesson. Other books in this series: Childrens Bible Study: Abraham Childrens Bible Study: Ruth Childrens Bible Study: Bethlehem - The First Christmas Childrens Bible Study: Joseph (King James Version)
