

Have you ever wondered: Is there really a God? If God does exist, why can't I find him? Why doesn't God communicate with me and answer my prayers? "In Search of Truth, A Layman's Guide to Awakening One's Faith" is for people of all religious beliefs who are interested in starting their own spiritual journey to seek union with our Father. You will learn how to search for and find God, how to develop and expand your prayer life, and how to recognize and avoid sin. Mr. Gross explores the true Catholic faith versus what people think Catholics believe, including a layman's guide to the celebration of the Eucharist. "In Search of Truth" is well documented with footnotes. It contains a section on prayers and a glossary to explain religious terms. It has been granted a Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur from the Catholic Church which means it is free of doctrinal or moral error. In Search of Truth will be of interest to the following:

- Those interested in beginning a journey in discovering, developing and living in both a spiritual and physical reality.
- Christians who want to learn how to develop a loving relationship with God.
- Those interested in developing a deeper and more rewarding pray life.
- Those interested in understanding the Catholic faith.
- Those who have left or have fallen away from their Christian faith.
- Catholics who want to refresh and better understand their faith.

The book will also make a good guide for Christian High School youth groups of all denominations and RCIA candidates.
