

Leadership in Africa: Lessons from Moses

Moses, though not an African, was born and bred on the African soil. He learnt the culture and the way of life of African people. It was this African man that God chose to use to emancipate His people from slavery in Egypt. Moses, as God's instrument, to lead His people to the land of rest needed to learn about himself. He spent forty years in the school of leadership. The wilderness was both his school, the Hebrew children were his students and Yahweh was his teacher. The discourse of Moses' leadership as recorded for us in the Bible is one that has very few parallels in human history. Moses saves as one of the rare breed of Godly leadership both in Biblical and contemporary history. This book examines in somewhat great details the leadership of this African bred and great leader and urges leaders, especially, African leaders to draw valuable lessons from Moses. This book has been written out of a deep concern for lack of leadership of integrity in the Christian Church as well as in our co-operate world, Although the book seeks to specifically grapple with leadership issues that affect the Church in Africa some of its principles and recommendations are applicable across the Universal Church as well as the market place. Never before in human history have we needed leadership of integrity with strong convictions and principles informed by Biblical principles. I trust and pray that the lessons and challenges raised in this book will reconfigure our leadership to what God intended it to be.
