

Joy in Hell

Life aint fair. All of us face pain and suffering in our lives. The only difference is in degree and kind. This book is the account of mine. Through my suffering I discovered anew that the love and grace of an ever-present God is sufficient to give victory over adversity. God is in the redemption business, waiting patiently for those who will call on Him to give meaning and direction to their lives. Those who read this account of my adversities will see that God is present and willing to help no matter what we face. I pray that He will be honored as other suffering people see Him at work in my life.
