

Miracle Marcia

Everyone in the small village of Bemus Point, New York knows the Rambachers. In addition to working, Kim is an officer in the Bemus Point Volunteer Fire Department. His wife Marcia works in the local high schools main office. They are always in the stands cheering on the schools sport teams, especially when one of their three children is playing. The Rambachers are active members in their church, and are loved and respected by all. Living in a close knit community surrounded by family and friends ... everything is going so well for this middle class family. Their lives take a tumultuous turn in 1998 after Marcia was diagnosed with breast cancer. Time after time small miracles surround Marcia in her seventeen year battle with this disease. In this book Kim reflects on how he met Marcia, how they fell in love, settled in Bemus Point, raised their family, and how they dealt with her sickness. Apparent through it all is Marcias strength, faith, optimism, sense of humor, and continued love of life. Miracle Marcia is an inspiration to anyone struggling with cancer, to caregivers, and to people of faith everywhere. It reminds us that EVERY day is a gift.
