

The Inner Life

It was the dying observation- penned the day preceding her departure- of one of the most amiable and intellectual of her sex (Jane Taylor)- Did you know what thoughts I have now, you would see as I do, that the whole business of life is preparation for death. In contrast with this weighty sentiment of the dying Christian, we place the solemn testimony of the dying worldling- I have all my days, said he, been getting ready to live, and now I must die! What an affecting declaration is this! And how true of the great mass of our fellow immortals- all planning, and toiling, and preparing to live- yet how few preparing to die! To place before such the subject of real life, and to awaken in their minds a consideration of its nature, and a sense of its solemnities, is one design of the following pages. Octavius Winslow stood out as one of the foremost evangelical preachers of the 19th Century. A Baptist minister and contemporary of Charles Spurgeon he seceded to the Anglican church in his last decade. His Christ centered works show devotion and practicality.
