

Shimmer: Jennifer McBride

Spencer Gray is just an ordinary kid. He lives with his family in a small country town. He loves his mum and dad, and his little sister. He likes school, cross-country running, his close friends and Lego. He wishes he was better at skate boarding. This is the story of a powerful, teenage genie named Kora. When Venum, a crazed half-human half-genie, tries to take over her homeland, Kora is sent to earth by her father, the Emperor of Genesisia, against her will. Once on earth she is, to her horror, quickly discovered and harnessed by a human boy, David. David's life is also in chaos, and at first a genie seems like the answer to all his prayers, but he soon finds out that having a genie isn't all it's cracked up to be. Kora is desperate to return home to help fight the battle against Venum. She hates being harnessed by a stupid human boy and she hates the smell of this stinking place called Earth. But as the most powerful genie in Genesisia and the Emperor's daughter, Venum is obsessed with the idea of harnessing her and soon they find that Venum's desire to harness her draws the battle for Genesisia to Earth. Unable to be more than 100 metres apart at any time, Kora and David eventually develop a relationship that leads them to discover that the best way of helping themselves is to first help each other.
