

Robot Salvation

The hard problem had been solved. The diverse spectrum of beliefs in humanity became mirrored in a very diverse spectrum of beliefs in the machine world. If a human can believe it, then any robot could also. Rex was a utility robot assigned to different jobs, reconfigured each time with knowledge and beliefs appropriate to his assigned circumstance. When he was assigned to the church, their evangelism took its inevitable toll on his spectrum of beliefs. Rex encountered prejudice. Surely, religion was not for a machine or was it?
