

The Types of Genesis Briefly Considered As Revealing the Development of Human Nature (Classic Reprint)

Preface, to throw together a few thoughts on the mystic character of Scripture, and on other kindred matters. Many are aware that the books of Moses deal largely in typical representations, that is, figures of spiritual things, both facts and doctrines, of the Christian dispensation. We cannot read St. Paul without perceiving that he saw far more in Genesis than the mere letter. The creation with him is the figure of another work, which God accomplishes in every saved sinner. God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined into our hearts. Then, If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things have passed away; behold, all things are become new. (Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and do not occur in the book.)
