Not illustrated. 1886 Excerpt: ... as Red Dutch, a few of which will be sold for the very low price of one dollar each. Buy a few and save making ladders and climbing cherry trees. If you are fond of grapes, buy the Niagara, a small plant of which you can get for the trifling sum of two dollars. This is said to be the hardiest white grape grown, and will no doubt prove a bonanza to growers in the mild climate of Minnesota, but is pronounced too tender for the cold winters of Kansas. Surely, with humbugs to right of him, with tree peddlers to left of him, with blizzards behind him, and blight, drought and tornadoes in front of him, the lot of the would-be fruit grower of Minnesota is not an enviable one. And when we see the poor farmer made the victim and prey of every kind of monopoly, we should not wonder to see the boys running away from the old farm and seeking the gilded attractions of the city. DISCUSSION. Mr. Harris spoke of the agents of Albangh as among the class of humbugs mentioned by Mr. Cutler. Mr. Underwood. Albaugh told me in Chicago, at the convention of nurserymen, a year ago last June, that he was going to send out parties, and sell them just what he wanted to, and furnish them with just what he pleased. Mr. Tuttle. I would say I think he has picked up the greatest set of liars on the continent. Laughter. On motion, the meeting adjourned until 2 oclock p. H. AFTERNOON SESSION. Thursday, January 21, 1886. The meeting was called to order at the usual hour by President Smith. QUESTION BOX. The following question was read: Has any person been humbugged by Minnesota nurserymen or sellers of nursery stock with head-quarters in this State? Mr. Underwood. Mr.

President, my impression is that there are a good many who think they have been humbugged by Minnesota nurserymen. When I h...
